

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
September 21, 2016

CONTACT: press@johnkatkoforcongress.com

COLLEEN DEACON: NO ANSWER? OR THE WRONG ANSWER.

SYRACUSE, NY – Katko for Congress today released its fifth television advertisement. The thirty-second spot, entitled “Answers,” features the unedited transcript of a December 30, 2015 interview in which candidate Colleen Deacon fails to answer a question posed by Grant Reeher of WRVO’s the Campbell Conversations regarding what can be done to address the threat of ISIS.

Given the current heightened threat environment in this country, it is critical that any candidate for public office detail a plan for combating ISIS and keeping this country safe.

The transcript can be found below:

Grant Reeher: And my guest is Colleen Deacon. What should we be doing regarding Syria and the fight against ISIS?

Colleen Deacon: Um...fighting ISIS, obviously, I ... I don't know what the answer is...

Narrator: But Deacon pledged full loyalty to her party's answers. Supporting Obama's nuclear Iran deal. Weakening our strength abroad. And leaving us vulnerable at home.

Colleen Deacon: Um...fighting ISIS, obviously, I ... I don't know what the answer is...

Narrator: Colleen Deacon. No answer? Or the wrong answer.

The television commercial begins airing immediately on area broadcast and cable. It can be accessed here.

Congressman John Katko was elected in November 2014 to represent the 24th Congressional District of New York, which includes Onondaga, Cayuga, and Wayne Counties and the western portion of Oswego County. For more information, visit johnkatkoforcongress.com or Facebook.com/JohnKatkoForCongress.

###